INDEX

Accounting and reporting, defects in methods of, used by Toronto, 218–219.

ACCOUNTING BASIS OF BUDGETARY PROCEDURE. WillB. Hadley, 136–139.

Accounting features, of the budget, 231–232.

ACCOUNTING PRACTICE, THE MOVEMENT FOR IMPROVED FINANCING AND, IN TORONTO. Horace L. Brittain, 211–222.

Accounting system: Classifications of the, of Philadelphia, 136–137; what it must provide for, 136.

Accounts, classification of, as presented in the budget, 40–41.

ADAMSON, TILDEN. The Preparation of Estimates and the Formulation of the Budget—The New York City Method, 249–263.

Administrative discretion, devices adopted for controlling, in New York City, 179.

—— efficiency, relation between city planning and, 157.

—— functions, division between legislative and, in Cleveland, 265–266.

—— government, Wisconsin as a model of, 59.

—— initiative, effect of, 6.

—— organizations to which all taxpayers must contribute, 193.

ADMINISTRATIVE PROGRAM, THE BUDGET AS AN. Henry Bruère, 176–191.

Administrative re-organization: In Ohio, 61–62; in Wisconsin, 62; results to be expected from plan of, in Illinois, 90.

American cities: Dependence of, on the general property tax, 115; importance of real estate tax in revenue system of, 125; per capita assessed building value in average, 127; per capita land value in average, 127; sources of revenue of, 121–123.

—— municipal revenues, two characteristics of, 114.

Appropriating systems, difficulty in our, 52.

Appropriation: Example of a detailed, to a functional subdivision, 169–170; revenues subject to annual, 103–104.

—— acts: Form of, 108–110; number of, passed in each month of legislative session of 1915, in Massachusetts, 110.

—— bills: Consequence of distribution of, 10–11; enacted by 48th General Assembly of Illinois, 78; former method of presenting, in Illinois, 86.

—— law: Argument for and against insertion of detail in the, 53–54; definition of the, 51–52; difficulties arising from the itemizing of, 53.

—— of funds, and obligation to perform specific services, 185.

—— ordinance: Flexibility of the, of Dayton, 168–170; of the budget, 242–244; preparation of the, by Cleveland's Council, 265; provisions to be contained in an, 242–244; public hearings attending preparation of the, in Cleveland, 268–269; result of fixing salaries in the, 267–268.

—— plan, evils resulting from the periodical, 56, 57–58.

—— procedure, outline of the, in Massachusetts, 104–105.

Appropriations: Amount of, passed by Illinois legislature in 1913 and 1915, 76; by activities, 238; classifications of, provided for by Dayton's budget, 167–168; combination of two methods of making, in Ohio, 95; controlled by budget in New York City, 249; desirability of separating into subdivisions, 258; disadvantages of old method of making, in Illinois, 74; factors specified in acts granting, 109; former practice of assigning, to charitable institutions in Illinois, 74–75; in Chicago, 270; increase in total, in Illinois from 1913–1915, 85–88; objections to a system of permanent, 58; old methods of making, in Illinois, 73–74; present law of securing, in Massachusetts, 101; provisions for, in New York City budget, 182–183; provisions of Dayton governing, 166; total, made in each month of legislative session of 1915, in Massachusetts, 110; total amount of, in Ohio, for 1915–17, 98; versus estimates, 241–242.

Assessment: Methods of, 127–128; of land and buildings, importance of the separate, 127; of physical improvements, 130–131; of street and park openings, 130.

Assessments: Advantages of annual 127; advantages of full value, 126; revenue derived from special, 129–130.

Atlantic City, per capita land value of, 127.

Audit, in French and English cities, 209–210.

BALDWIN, D. C. The Budget Procedure of English and French Cities, 204–210.

BEARD, CHARLES A. The Budgetary Provisions of the New York Constitution, 64–68.

BEISSER, PAUL T. Unit Costs in Recreational Facilities, 140–147.

BELL, FINLEY F. The Illinois Budget, 73–84.

Birmingham, England: Duties of the Finance Committee of, 205–206; receipts of, from utilities, during past year, 208; total expenditure of, during last year, 208.

Board of Control, work of the, in establishing a budget system in California, 69–70.

—— —— estimate and apportionment, work of agencies established by, 187–188.

BRADDOCK, J. HAROLD. Some Suggestions for Preparing a Budget Exhibit, 148–162.

British budget, some features of the, 59.

BRITTAIN, HORACE L. The Movement for Improved Financing and Accounting Practice in Toronto, 211–222.

BRUÈRE, HENRY. The Budget as an Administrative Program, 176–191.

Budget: Accounting features of the, 40–41, 231–232; appropriation ordinance of the, 242–244; appropriations controlled by, in New York City, 249; arguments in favor of the executive formulating the, 42, 49; as a plan of financing, 16–17; chief purposes of present, in New York City, 250; classes of expenditures to be provided for in the county, 226; classifications of appropriations provided for by Dayton's, 167–168; classifications provided for in the Illinois, 80; definition of a, 15–16, 38, 47–48, 51, 118, 225, 229, 235; difficulties presented by the classifications in the Illinois, 81–82; difficulty of constructing a, in Illinois, 78–79; division of the, in French cities, 207; division of the, of New York City, 181–182; divisions of a general, 197–198; essential feature of a, 48; essentials of a, lacking in comptroller's plan for New York, 227; example of New York method of making the, 261; form of, existing in New York City until ten years ago, 177; main estimate classifications in the, 242; material to be contained in a, 39, 42; meaning of the, 165, 224–225; need of expert assistance in making the, 275–276; needs to be considered in making a, 229–230; net amount of departmental appropriations in Illinois, 81; obstacles in the way of an executive, in Massachusetts, 103; outlook for a federal, 29; period to be covered by expenditure classifications for purposes of the, 137; preliminary work in preparation of a report showing need of, 25–26; preparation of the, in French cities, 206–207; provisions for appropriations in New York City, 182–183; provisions for control of the, in Germany, 197; questions raised by the submission of the, by the executive to the legislature, 43–44; recommendation for preparation of a, in Toronto, 217; recommendation of a, by finance committee of Chicago, 270; relation of the, to government, 224; reorganizations necessitated by installation of the, 96–97; revenue system required by administration of the, 114; steps necessary in the making of a, 50–51; summary of important features of the, 234; total amount of departmental estimates in Illinois, 81; total recommendations of the, in Ohio, for 1915–17, 98; total request of the, in Ohio for 1915–17, 98; various subdivisions of a municipal, 196–197; work of Legislative Reference Bureau, in preparing a, for Illinois, 80; work of the Finance Committee on the, 206.

BUDGET, CALIFORNIA'S STATE. John Francis Neylan, 69–72.

BUDGET, TAXATION AND THE MUNICIPAL. Milton E. Loomis, 113–124.

BUDGET AND THE LEGISLATURE, THE. Rufus E. Miles, 36–46.

BUDGET, THE, AS AN ADMINISTRATIVE PROGRAM. Henry Bruère, 176–191.

BUDGET, THE GERMAN MUNICIPAL, AND ITS RELATION TO THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT. Karl F. Geiser, 192–203.

BUDGET, THE ILLINOIS. Finley F. Bell, 73–84.

BUDGET, THE PREPARATION OF ESTIMATES AND THE FORMULATION OF THE—THE NEW YORK CITY METHOD. Tilden Adamson, 249–263.

BUDGET, THE PROPER FUNCTION OF THE STATE. S. Gale Lowrie, 47–63.

Budget accounting: Result of using forms of, on food supplies, 256; what is meant by, 139.

—— appropriation, characteristic of, in New York City, 180.

—— control: By the representative body, 18–19; results of Philadelphia's effort of working out forms and procedure of, 34.

—— estimates: Conditions tending to swell, 99; provision for, in constitution, 3–4; the personal property tax and, 120.

—— exhibit: Commercial facts relating to city shown in a, 156–157; comparison of display charts used in a, 158; facts shown to the taxpayer by the, 148; function of the, 148; devices used to create interest in a, 155–156.

BUDGET EXHIBIT, SOME SUGGESTIONS FOR PREPARING A. J. Harold Braddock, 148–162.

Budget idea: Acceptance of the, by the public, 28–29; efforts made to apply the, in the federal government, 23; in state government, the, 29; in the United States, the, 21–22.

BUDGET IDEA, EVOLUTION OF THE,

IN THE UNITED STATES. Frederick A. Cleveland, 15–35.
Budget ideas, applied to municipalities, 32–35.
—— making: Additional helps to, 246; basis of, 237; essential requirement in, 236, 251–252; first essential to successful, 235; importance of, 1; practical difficulty of, in Chicago, 273; results obtainable from a, 260–261; the allotment scheme in, 246–247; provisions for, in the constitution, 1.
BUDGET MAKING AND THE WORK OF GOVERNMENT. Henry Jones Ford, 1–14.
BUDGET MAKING FOR SMALL CITIES. Lent D. Upson, 235–248.
BUDGET MAKING IN CHICAGO. Charles E. Merriam, 270–276.
BUDGET MAKING IN CLEVELAND. Mayo Fesler, 264–269.
BUDGET MAKING, STATE, IN OHIO. W. O. Heffernan, 91–100.
Budget making procedure, inadequate publicity in the, of Toronto, 214.
—— method: Benefits derived from the new, in New York City, 180; purpose of the new, in New York City, 180.
BUDGET METHODS IN ILLINOIS. John A. Fairlie, 85–90.
Budget movement, the, in Illinois, 76–77.
—— ordinance, functions to be performed by the, 233–234.
—— plan: Disadvantages of the segregated, of New York City, 180–181; essentials to an adequate, 48;
—— practice, purposes of the proposed revision of, in New York City, 181.
—— procedure; Boards of control in, 30–31; factors affecting, in the United States, 3; necessity for publicity in, 45; provisions of Cleveland's charter for, 265; purpose of, 191.
BUDGET PROCEDURE, THE, OF ENGLISH AND FRENCH CITIES. D. C. Baldwin, 204–210.
Budget program, effect of development of a scientific, on operation of government in New York City, 188.
—— proposals, of President Taft, action of Congress on the, 27–28.
—— system: Adoption of the segregated, in Chicago, 271; advantages of installing in state governments, 63; basis laid by New York Bureau of Municipal Research for, 65; plan prepared for a new, in Illinois, 89; efforts of New York City to establish, 178–179.
Budgets: Bibliography on, 277.
BUDGETS, COUNTY, AND THEIR CONSTRUCTION. Otho Grandford Cartwright, 223–234.
BUDGETS, SELECT LIST OF REFERENCES ON NATIONAL, STATE, COUNTY AND MUNICIPAL, IN THE UNITED STATES. Harry A. Rider, 277–287.
Budgetary control, steps necessary to preserve effectiveness of, 189.
—— procedure: Leading facts in, in German municipalities, 195–196; relation between the revenue system and, 113; significance of, 36; under the commission manager plan, 174; vital facts concerning municipal, in England and France, 204.
BUDGETARY PROCEDURE, ACCOUNTING BASIS OF. WillB. Hadley, 136–139.
BUDGETARY PROCEDURE UNDER THE MANAGER FORM OF CITY GOVERNMENT. Arch M. Mandel, 163–175.
BUDGETARY PROVISIONS, THE, OF THE NEW YORK CONSTITUTION. Charles A. Beard, 64–68.
Bureau of Municipal Research: Basis laid by, of New York, for a scientific budget system, 65; bills prepared by, of New York, 65–66.

California: Extent of power of State Board of Control of, 69; improvements established by new budget system of, 71.

CALIFORNIA'S STATE BUDGET. John Francis Neylan, 69–72.
Capital outlay, definition of, 239.
CARTWRIGHT, OTHO GRANDFORD. County Budgets and their Construction, 223–234.
Chicago: Adoption of the segregated budget system in, 271; amount of over appropriation in, in 1914 and 1915, 273; amount of supplemental appropriations made in, in 1914, 274; appropriations in, 270; average cost per unit of attendance at the playgrounds of, 143; cost of operation of bathing beaches and swimming pools in, 146; illustration of old budget system in, 271; improvements of new budget system in, 271–272; per capita cost of bathing beaches and swimming pools in, 146; practical difficulty of budget making in, 273; recommendation of a budget by finance committee of, 270; some provisions of the budget of, for 1915, 272.
CHICAGO, BUDGET MAKING IN. Charles E. Merriam, 270–276.
Chicago's South Park Commissioners, table compiled from report of, 1914, 141–142.
City, alternatives open to meet demands of a growing, 190.
CITY GOVERNMENT, BUDGETARY PROCEDURE UNDER THE MANAGER FORM OF. Arch M. Mandel, 163–175.
City planning, relation between administrative efficiency and, 157.
Cleveland: Division between legislative and administrative functions in, 265–266; excess of expenditures over income in, in last two years, 268; financial administration of, 264; preparation of the appropriation ordinance by council of, 265; provisions of charter of, for modern budget procedure, 265; public hearings attending preparation of the appropriation ordinance in, 268–269.
CLEVELAND, BUDGET MAKING IN. Mayo Fesler, 264–269.
CLEVELAND, FREDERICK A. Evolution of the Budget Idea in the United States, 15–35.
Commission manager charter of Dayton, provisions of, governing appropriations, 166.
—— —— form of government, number of cities having adopted, 163.
—— —— plan, budgetary procedure under the, 174.
Congress, connecting link between executive and, 9.
Cost data: Difficulty of compound unit, 255; example of the weakness of usual, 253.
—— of asphalt pavement, summary of various elements in comparing, 254,
COUNTY AND MUNICIPAL BUDGETS IN THE UNITED STATES, SELECT LIST OF REFERENCES ON NATIONAL, STATE. Harry A. Rider, 277–287.
County budget: Classes of expenditures to be provided for in the, 226; usual procedure in making the, 225–226.
—— —— procedure, improvements in recent years in, 227–228.
—— budgets, bibliography on, 279.
COUNTY BUDGETS AND THEIR CONSTRUCTION. Otho Grandford Cartwright, 223–234.
County government: The ordinary way of financing, 224–226; the preparation of the budget in, 231.

Dayton: Appropriation ordinance of, 168–171; method employed in, for preparing budget, 170–171; provisions of charter of, governing appropriations, 166.
Dayton's budget: Amount for current operation in, 165; classifications of appropriations provided for, by, 167–168; effectiveness of, 171; result of operation under, prior to 1914, 165–166.

Detroit Recreation Commission, amount of budget of the, 140.

Economy and efficiency: Duties of the commission on, in Massachusetts, 103; organization of President Taft's commission on, 24; program of work formulated by commission on, 24.
Efficiency and Economy Committee, report of, of Illinois, 89–90.
Efficient government, position of municipalities of this country in crusade for, 60.
Electorate, how it can be reached, 20.
England, vital facts concerning municipal budgetary procedure in, and France, 204.
ENGLISH AND FRENCH CITIES, THE BUDGET PROCEDURE OF. D. C Baldwin, 204–210.
English cities: Audit in French and, 209–210; fixing the tax rate in, 208–209.
Equipment, definition of, 259.
Estimate classifications, main, in the budget, 242.
—— forms; Advantage of detailed accounting required on departmental, 260; special departmental, 259–260.
—— sheets, summary on, of salaries, 240.
Estimates; Appropriations versus, 241–242; people required to make, 16–17; preparation and investigation of, 106–108; present law of submitting, in Massachusetts, 101; proper officers to prepare, 48; recommendation for establishment of annual, in Toronto, 217; two kinds of, 16.
ESTIMATES, THE PREPARATION OF, AND THE FORMULATION OF THE BUDGET—THE NEW YORK CITY METHOD. Tilden Adamson, 249–263.
Executive: Arguments in favor of the, formulating the budget, 42; budget to be made by responsible, 17–18; questions raised by the submission of the budget by the, to the legislature, 43–44.
—— budget, obstacles in the way of an, in Massachusetts, 103.
—— power, results of increase in, 62.
Expenditure: Authorization of, in New York City, for 1915, 249; classification by character of, 238–239; classification by objects of, 239.
Expenditures: Conditions resulting from revenues of the government exceeding authorized, 48; control of, by classifying various forms of supplies, 257–258; necessity for simultaneous consideration of income and, 37–38; need of flexibility in, 272–273; obligatory, what they include, 207.
Expense, definition of, 238–239.

FAIRLIE, JOHN A. Budget Methods in Illinois, 85–90.
Federal government, efforts made to apply the budget idea in the, 23.
FESLER, MAYO. Budget Making in Cleveland, 264–269.
Finance: Charts used in exhibit on, 152; plan for organizing a department of, in Illinois, 90; relations between general and local, 194–195.
—— Committee: Duties of the, of Birmingham, 205–206; of Chicago, recommendation of budget by, 270; work of the, on the budget, 206.
Finances: Defects in the administration of the, of Toronto, 212–215; lack of adequate supervision of, in Toronto, 215–216; lack of effective control over the, of Toronto, 213–214; recommendations regarding the administration of Toronto's, 216–218.

Financial administration of Cleveland, 264.
FINANCIAL ADMINISTRATION OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Ernest H. Maling, 101–112.
Financial control, contrast between English and French cities in methods of, 205.
—— legislation, situation in Illinois with regard to, 77–78.
Financing, methods employed in, in Toronto, 214–215
FINANCING AND ACCOUNTING PRACTICE, THE MOVEMENT FOR IMPROVED, IN TORONTO. Horace L. Brittain, 211–212.
Fire protection, charts used in exhibit on, 150.
Fiscal administration: Former system of, in Ohio, 94–95; provisions of first constitution of Illinois for, 85; provisions of New York constitution for a new era of, 66–68; provisions of present constitution of Illinois, regarding, 85–86.
FORD, HENRY JONES. Budget Making and the Work of Government, 1–14.
France, vital facts concerning municipal budgetary procedure in England and, 204–210.
French cities: Contrast between English and, in methods of financial control, 205; division of the budget in, 207; preparation of the budget in, 206–207.
FRENCH CITIES, THE BUDGET PROCEDURE OF ENGLISH AND. D. C. Baldwin, 204–210.

GEISER, KARL F. The German Municipal Budget and its Relation to the General Government, 192–203.
German municipal budget, relation of public enterprises to the, 201.
GERMAN MUNICIPAL BUDGET, THE, AND ITS RELATION TO THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT. Karl F. Geiser, 192–203.
German municipalities, leading facts in budgetary procedure in, 195–196.
—— municipality, effect of freedom from state interference on a, 200.
Germany: Comparison of incomes of various sources in, 201; complicated financial relations between local and general governments of, 192; duties of the magistrate in, 194; examples of municipal enterprise in, 200–201; inheritance tax as a federal tax in, 195; provisions for control of the budget in, 197; taxation in, 199.
Government: Annual expenditures of the federal, 25; conditions resulting from revenues of the, exceeding authorized expenditures, 48; relation between budget conditions and work of, 3, 14.
GOVERNMENT, BUDGET MAKING AND THE WORK OF. Henry Jones Ford, 1–14.
Governor, duties imposed on the, regarding matters of money raising and accountability for expenditure, 29–30.

HADLEY, WILLB. Accounting Basis of Budgetary Procedure, 136–139.
Hamilton: On taxation, 1–2; work of, in early United States government, 5.
HEFFERNAN, W. O. State Budget Making in Ohio, 91–100.
Health exhibit, charts used in, 150.

Illinois: amount of appropriations passed by legislature of, in 1913 and 1915, 76; amount of estimates prepared by Legislative Reference Bureau of, 88; appropriation bills enacted by 48th General Assembly of, 78; classifications provided for in the budget of, 80; definite plan prepared for a new budget system in, 89; difficulty of constructing a budget in, 78–79; disadvantages of old method of making appropriations in, 74; former method of presenting appropriation bills in, 86; former practice of assigning appropriations to charitable institutions in, 74–75; increase in total appropriations in, from 1913–1915, 88; increases in the biennial appropriations made by General Assembly of, from 1875 to 1915, 85; old methods of making appropriations in, 73–74; plan for organizing a department of finance in, 90; provisions of constitutions of, regarding fiscal administration, 85–86; reasons for increase in biennial appropriations in, 85; relation between Legislative Reference Bureau and General Assembly in, 79–80; report of Efficiency and Economy Committee of, 89–90; situation in, with regard to financial legislation, 77–78; the budget as prepared by the Legislative Reference Bureau of, 77–78; the budget movement in, 76–77; work of Legislative Reference Bureau in preparing a budget for, 80.

ILLINOIS, BUDGET METHODS IN. John A. Fairlie, 85–90.

Illinois budget: Difficulties presented by the classifications in the, 81–82; net amount of departmental appropriations in, 81; total amount of department estimates in, 81.

ILLINOIS BUDGET, THE. Finley F. Bell, 73–84.

Income: Necessity for establishment of a balance between expenditure and, 48; necessity for simultaneous consideration of expenditures and, 37–38.

—— tax, objections to the adoption of the, as an element in municipal finance, 117–118.

Indiana, progress of the budget in, 227.

Inheritance tax, as a federal tax in Germany, 195.

Land value, relation of, to total real estate value, 129.

—— —— maps, value of, 128.

Leeds: Total expenditure of, during past year, 208–209; total receipts of, during last year, 208.

Legislative and administrative functions, division between, in Cleveland, 265–266.

—— initiation, reasons for our failure of, 50.

Legislative Reference Bureau: Amount of estimates prepared by, of Illinois, 88; the budget as prepared by the, of Illinois, 77–78; work accomplished by, of Illinois, 88; work of, in preparing a budget for Illinois, 80.

Legislature: Authority of, over public money, 36; questions raised by the submission of the budget by the executive to the, 43–44.

LEGISLATURE, THE BUDGET AND THE. Rufus E. Miles, 36–46.

Licenses, granting of, 134–135.

LOOMIS, MILTON E. Taxation and the Municipal Budget, 113–124.

Los Angeles: Per capita land value of, 127; progress of the budget in, 227.

LOWRIE, S. GALE. The Proper Function of the State Budget, 47–63.

MALING, ERNEST H. Financial Administration of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, 101–112

Manchester, receipts of, from tramways, 209.

MANDEL, ARCH M. Budgetary Procedure under the Manager Form of City Government, 163–175.

Manhattan, per capita land value of, 127.

Massachusetts: Appropriation procedure in, 104–105; bonds issued in, 111–112; duties of Commission on Economy and Efficiency in, 103; number of appropriation acts passed in each month of legislative session of 1915, in, 110; obstacles in the way of an executive budget in, 103, 107; present method of submitting estimates and securing appropriations in, 101.

MASSACHUSETTS, FINANCIAL ADMINISTRATION OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF. Ernest H. Maling, 101–112.

Materials, definition of, 259.

MERRIAM, CHARLES E. Budget Making in Chicago, 270–276.

MILES, RUFUS E. The Budget and the Legislature, 36–46.

Municipal budget: Direction of the development of the, in American cities, 113; provision for recreational facilities in the, 140; relation of public enterprises to the German, 201; various subdivisions of a, 196–197.

MUNICIPAL BUDGET, TAXATION AND THE. Milton E. Loomis, 113–124.

MUNICIPAL BUDGET, THE GERMAN, AND ITS RELATION TO THE GENERAL GOVERNMENT. Karl F. Geiser, 192–203.

Municipal budgetary procedure, vital facts concerning, in England and France, 204.

—— budgets, bibliography on, 279–287.

MUNICIPAL BUDGETS IN THE UNITED STATES, SELECT LIST OF REFERENCES ON NATIONAL, STATE, COUNTY AND. Harry A. Rider, 277–287.

Municipal enterprise: Examples of, in Germany, 200–201; operation of, 135.

—— expenditures, effect of increase in, on revenue system, 114.

—— methods, committee formed to study improved, in Toronto, 211–212.

—— reports, 247–248.

—— revenue: Important sources of, 118–123; two characteristics of American, 114.

—— taxes: Income from direct and indirect, in Prussia, 202, 203.

Municipalities: Budget ideas applied to, 32–35; position of, of this country in crusade for, 60.

NATIONAL, STATE, COUNTY AND MUNICIPAL BUDGETS IN THE UNITED STATES, SELECT LIST OF REFERENCES ON. Harry A. Rider, 277–287.

National budgets, bibliography on, 277.

New York: Basis laid by Bureau of Municipal Research of, for a scientific budget system, 65; bills prepared by Bureau of Municipal Research of, 65–66; board of estimate in, 189–190; budget procedure in, 34–35; comparison of amounts estimated and amounts collected from various sources of revenue in, from 1912–1914, 121–122; deficiency in real and personal taxes in, from 1899–1913, 120–121; essentials of a budget lacking in comptroller's plan for, 227; method of making budget, example of, 261; per capita land value of, 127; provisions of constitution of, for a new era of fiscal administration, 66–68; two steps in the development of budget procedure in, 176.

New York City: Appropriations controlled by budget in, 249; authorization of expenditure in, for 1915, 249; benefits derived from the new budget method in, 180; characteristic of budget appropriation in, 180; chief purposes of present budget in, 250; classification of expenditures for bureau of child hygiene in, 184; devices adopted for controlling administrative discretion in, 179; difference between present and proposed method of the budget, for, 183; disadvantages of the segregated budget plan of, 180–181; division of the budget of, 181–182; form of budget existing in, until ten years ago, 177; provisions for appropriations in budget of, 182–183; purpose of the new budget method in, 180; purposes of the proposed revision of budget practice in, 181.

NEW YORK CITY METHOD, THE—THE PREPARATION OF ESTIMATES AND THE FORMULATION OF THE BUDGET. Tilden Adamson, 249–263.

NEW YORK CONSTITUTION, THE BUDGETARY PROVISIONS OF THE. Charles A. Beard, 64–68.

NEYLAN, JOHN FRANCIS. California's State Budget, 69–72.

Ohio: Administrative re-organization in, 61–62; combination of two methods of making appropriations in, 95; consolidations suggested in governmental machinery of, 97–98; former system of fiscal administration in, 94–95; provisions of law establishing a budget system in, 91–92; total amount of appropriations in, for 1915–17, 98.

OHIO, STATE BUDGET MAKING IN. W. O. Heffernan, 91–100.

Personal property tax, reasons for abolishing the, 134.

Philadelphia: Classifications of accounting system of, 136–137; playground costs in, 144–146; total expenditure of municipal swimming centers in, 147.

Philadelphia's budget, two methods of presenting general accounting receipts in, 138.

Playgrounds: Average cost of operating, in Chicago, 146; in Philadelphia, 146.

Police protection, charts used in exhibit on, 150.

Prussia: Income from direct municipal taxes in, reported March 31, 1912, 202; income from indirect municipal taxes in, reported March 31, 1912, 203.

Public: Interest of the, in the budget, 165.

—— revenue, in St. Louis, 159, 160.

Publicity, necessity for, in budget procedure, 45.

Real estate value, relation of land value to total, 129.

Recreation, total amount spent in 1910 for, 140.

—— centers: Cities maintaining, in 1913, 140; number of, in the United States, in 1913, 140; total expenditures for, in 1913, 140.

—— parks, in Chicago, 142–143.

Recreational facilities: Movement for public coöperation in, 141; need for standardization in cost of, 141; per capita expenditures for, 140; provision for, in the municipal budget, 140.

RECREATIONAL FACILITIES, UNIT COSTS IN. Paul T. Beisser, 140–147.

Revenue: Comparison of amounts estimated and amounts collected from various sources of, in New York from 1912–14, 121–122; derived from special assessments, 129–130; relation between, and budgetary procedure, 113; relative certainty of, from real property tax, 119; sources of, 116, 117, 121–123; subject to annual appropriation, 103–104.

REVENUE, SOURCES OF. Herbert S. Swan, 125–135.

Revenue demands, adaptability to, 114–118.

—— system: Characteristics of, 113, 118–124; effect of increase in municipal expenditures on, 114; importance of real estate tax in, of American cities, 125; lack of flexibility in the, 115; remedy proposed for inflexibility in the, 115; required by administration of the budget, 114.

Revenues: Excess of, over expenditures, 48; utilized under standing statutory authority, 110–111.
RIDER, HARRY A. Select List of References on National, State, County and Municipal Budgets in the United States, 277–287.

Salaries: Schedule of, 239–240; standardization of, 80.
San Diego, per capita land value of, 127.
San Francisco, per capita land value of, 127.
Sewage exhibit, charts used in, 150–151.
Sidewalks, cross-walks and parks, charts used in exhibit on, 151.
Speaker of the House: Decrease in power of, 12–13; development of autocratic power of, 11–12.
St. Louis: Revenue of, 159, 160; share of state's expenses borne by, 161.
Standardization: Need for, in cost of recreational facilities, 141; of salaries, 80.
State and municipal government, distinction between, 60–61.
—— budget: Preparation of, 49.
STATE BUDGET, CALIFORNIA'S. John Francis Neylan, 69–72.
STATE BUDGET, THE PROPER FUNCTION OF THE. S. Gale Lowrie, 47–63.
STATE BUDGET MAKING IN OHIO. W. O. Heffernan, 91–100.
State budgets, bibliography on, 278–279.
STATE, COUNTY AND MUNICIPAL, BUDGETS IN THE UNITED STATES, SELECT LIST OF REFERENCES ON NATIONAL. Harry A. Rider, 277–287.
State constitutions, requirements of, 29–30.
—— governments, advantages of installing an adequate budget system in our, 63.
—— reports: Of expenditures, lack in, 93–94; value of, 94.
Street cleaning, exhibit on, 152–153.
—— lighting, exhibit on, 151.
—— sprinkling, exhibit on, 151.
Supplies, definition of, 259.
SWAN, HERBERT S. Sources of Revenue, 125–135.

Taunton, per capita land value of, 127.
Tax: Budget estimates and the personal property, 120; dependence of American cities on the general property, 115; relative certainty of revenue, from real property, 119; relative certainty of yield from personal property, 120; the general property, 118–121.
—— discounts, objection to, 126.
—— maps, value of, 128.
—— rate: Fixing the, in English cities, 208–209; how it should be fixed, 125; limitations on the, 125.
—— receipts, method of estimating, 123.
TAXATION AND THE MUNICIPAL BUDGET. Milton E. Loomis, 113–124.
Taxation: Exemption of buildings from, 128–129; Hamilton on, 1–2; in Germany, 199.
Taxes: Advantages of the semi-annual collection of, 126; deficiency in real and personal, in New York from 1899–1913, 120–121; desirability of business, 134; exhibit on assessment and collection of, 152; semi-annual collection of, 126.
Taxpayer, facts shown to the, by the budget exhibit, 148.
Taxpayer's organizations, service performed by, 115.
Toronto: Accounting and reporting recommendations of Civic Survey Report of, 219–220; defects in methods of accounting and reporting used by, 218–219; defects in the administration of the finances of, 212–215; increase in assessed valuation of, from 1905–1914, 211; increase in city taxes of, from 1905–1914, 211; increase in population of, from 1905–1914, 211; lack of adequate supervision over the administration of finances in, 215–216; methods employed in financing in, 214–215; recommendations for establishment of annual estimates in, 217; recommendation for preparation of a budget in, 217; recommendations regarding the administration of finances of, 216–218; report of Civic Survey Committee of, 212, 215, 218–221.

TORONTO, THE MOVEMENT FOR IMPROVED FINANCING AND ACCOUNTING PRACTICE IN. Horace L. Brittain, 211–222.

Toronto Bureau of Municipal Research, report of, 217–218.

Unearned increment tax: Advantages of the, 134.

United States: The budget idea in the, 21–22; total amount of unexpended balances in the, 10.

UNITED STATES, EVOLUTION OF THE BUDGET IDEA IN THE. Frederick A. Cleveland, 15–35.

UNITED STATES, SELECT LIST OF REFERENCES ON NATIONAL, STATE, COUNTY AND MUNICIPAL BUDGETS IN THE. Harry A. Rider, 277–287.

UPSON, LENT D. Budget Making for Small Cities, 235–248.

Westchester County: Budget of, 227, 228.

Wisconsin: Administrative re-organization in, 62; as a model of administrative government, 59.

CUMULATIVE TOPICAL INDEX

Below is a list of references to the articles in previous issues of THE ANNALS which also treat of the special subjects discussed in this volume. A cumulative index will appear in each succeeding issue of THE ANNALS. Through these cumulative indexes, the vast amount of valuable material that the Academy has published during the twenty-five years of its existence can be efficiently correlated and effectively used.—THE EDITOR.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT

Previous volumes:

Municipal Problems, Vol. XXIII, March, 1904; Municipal Ownership and Municipal Franchises, Vol. XXVII, January, 1906; Municipal Problems, Vol. XXVIII, November, 1906.

Articles in other volumes:

The Study of Municipal Government, F. P. Pritchard, Vol. II, January, 1892, p. 18; Problems of Municipal Government, E. L. Godkin, Vol. IV, May, 1894; p. 1; The Need for Coördinating Municipal, State and National Activities, Frederick A. Cleveland, Vol. XLI, May, 1912, p. 23; Efficiency in the Fiscal Operations of Cities, Edmund D. Fisher, Ibid., p. 71; Economy and Efficiency in the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity of New York City, J. Leggett Pultz, Ibid., p. 78; Efficiency in Water Revenue Collection, J. H. Clowes, Ibid., p. 86; A Proposed Municipal Administrative Code for New Jersey Cities, D. O. Decker, Ibid., p. 204; Development of Standards in Municipal Government, Henry Bruère, Vol. LXI, September, 1915, p. 199.

STATE GOVERNMENT

Articles in other volumes:

Reform of Our State Governments, Gamaliel Bradford, Vol. IV, May, 1894, p. 27; Custody of State Funds, E. R. Buckley, Vol. VI, November, 1895, p. 37; Recent Tendencies in State Administration, Leonard A. Blue, Vol. XVIII, November, 1901, p. 44; Separation of State and Local Revenues, T. S. Adams, Vol. LVIII, March, 1915, p. 131.

TAXATION

Previous volumes:

Readjustments in Taxation, Vol. LVIII, March, 1915.

Articles in other volumes:

Taxation of Quasi-Public Corporations in the State of Ohio and the Franchise Tax, Frederic C. Howe, Vol. XIV, September, 1899, p. 157; The Taxation of Corporations in the United States, Frances Walker, Vol. XIX, March, 1902, p. 165.

BUDGETS

Articles in other volumes:

Budget Provisions in Commission-Governed Cities, L. G. Powers, Vol.

XXXVIII, November, 1911, p. 128; Efficiency in Budget Making, Herbert R. Sands, Vol. XLI, May, 1912, p. 138; Efficiency Value of the Budget Exhibit, J. Harold Braddock, Ibid., p. 151.

ACCOUNTING

Articles in other volumes:

Efficiency Through Accounting, Wm. A. Prendergast, Vol. XLI, May, 1912, p. 43; Results Obtainable through Reorganization of Accounting Methods, B. J. Taussig, Ibid., p. 57; The Application to a Municipality of Modern Methods of Accounting and Reporting, John M. Walton, Ibid., p. 64; A National Fund for Promoting Efficient Municipal Accounting and Reporting, U. L. Leonhauser, Ibid., p. 304; Simplified Cost Accounting for Manufacturers, Walter B. Palmer, Vol. LXI, September, 1915, p. 165.

COUNTY GOVERNMENT

Previous volumes:

County Government, Vol. XLVII, May, 1913.

Articles in other volumes:

Efficiency in County Government, Otho Granford Cartwright, Vol. XLI, May, 1912, p. 193.